PICTURED ABOVE IS AN EGG-BREAKING MACHINE now operating in the small Hope plant of Delight Egg Farms, Inc., which typifies the equipment that will go into the proposed big egg processing plant to be located here if Hempstead voters approve a $245,000 bond issue on Tuesday, March 20. THE BOND PROPOSAL WOULD AUTHORIZE BUT HOLD in suspense a 2-mill tax to service the bond issue that is, the tax would not be levied unless Delight Egg Farms, Inc., defaulted on its repayment contract.

THE REPAYMENT CONTRACT PROVIDES THAT DELIGHT Egg Farms, Inc., owned jointly by Olson Brothers of Los Angeles and Corn Belt Hatcheries of Hope, shall receive $225,000 of the $245,000 bond proceeds and repay at the rate of $15,000 a year for 15 years. The extra $20,000 of the bond total is retained as a reserve to pay one year's bond service should there be a temporary default. And since this $20,000 will be invested at a higher rate of interest than borne by the bond issue it will represent an earning rather than an expense to the taxpayers.

OLSON BROTHERS WANTED THE NEW PROCESSING plant established at Dallas but Corn Belt insisted it be located at Hope, according to information received by the Hempstead County Industrial Foundation, which accordingly agreed to sponsor the bond issue to be voted on March 20.

Advisability of Bond Issue Is Questioned

Editor's Note: The following discussion on the proposed bond issue to construct an egg processing plant in Hope was discussed today at the regular Lions Club meeting. In charge of the program was Arthur Wimmell, McCaskill, who talks in self-explanatory.

Acting on your suggestion I am summarizing my remarks made before the Hope Lions Club Monday noon, March 5, in connection with the proposed bond issue on which the voters of Hempstead County will vote March 20.

May I open by saying I have no axe to grind. I grow broilers and purchased Corn Belt chicks exclusively for three years until they sold their broiler operation to the Moutaire Poultry Co. I have no grievance against anyone connected with Corn Belt Hatcheries or any of their subsidiary companies. I do, however, know something of the general poultry industry and I have between 70 and 80 neighbors in the McCaskill-Blevins area who do produce eggs.

There are two sides to most proposals of this kind. I believe the people should hear and understand both sides before being asked to cast their votes for or against. I wish to present phases of the program which have not been mentioned by advocates of the bond issue or publicly by those who may be opposed.

1. There is an over supply of eggs at this time and forecasts for the future are for continued expansion resulting in still lower prices. This statement can be confirmed by reading any of the newspapers and magazines devoted to the poultry business or by checking with the U.S. Department of Agriculture or the Doane Agricultural Service. Besides falling egg prices the industry faces a declining demand for eggs. People eat fewer eggs for breakfast than in years gone by.

Yet despite a declining demand, lower prices and pleas of industry leaders for reduced production, there has been a greatly increased production, especially in the South, during the past several years. For example, Arkansas producers marked 48% more eggs in Oct., 1961 as compared with Oct., 1960 as compared with Oct., 1959.

Underwriters Association Formed Here

Recently a group of local Life Insurance Underwriters met at the Diamond to organize the Hope Life Underwriters Assn., designed to promote the highest standards of business and professional conduct in providing adequate protection for clients.

Carl Gray of Little Rock, General Agent for Washington National Life Insurance Co. and Vice President of the Arkansas Assn. of Life Underwriters was guest speaker.

The following charter members were registered: Charles L. Everett, J. T. Hodges, Charles H. Martin, Don Montgomery, Preston Sinyard, Melvin Redd, M. S. Bates, Creighton Middlebrooks, and Bob Lewis, all of Hope and Terry Flaherty of Lewisville and G. C. Byers of Washington, Ark.

Officers elected were Charles Martin, president; Preston Sinyard, vice president; Bob Lewis, secretary and treasurer; M. S. Bates, national committeeman and Creighton Middlebrooks, as state board member.

Young Auto Thieves Are Caught Here

City Officers Moses and Clark arrested two Bryan, Texas youths both 16, today in a car they had stolen earlier at Texarkana. The youths were turned over to Texarkana authorities.

City Police Chief Jack Brown said the boys admitted stealing a car at Bryan, driving it to Jacksonville, Texas where they abandoned it and stole another one. The second car was abandoned at Texarkana and the boys took another. A third person riding with them was a hitchhiker, which they picked up at Texarkana. He was released after questioning.

City Officers also reported that Purvis' U-Do laundry was hit by burglars during last night. Some $30 in dimes and nickels were taken from a change box.

A short change artist listed as Ralph M. Chaney, 34, of Baltimore, Md. was picked up for local officers at Prescott Friday night and returned here. The man got $29.75 at Oaks Cafe, $3.35 at the Ideal Cafe and had hit several places at Texarkana earlier.

Commission to Meet

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Highway Commission will meet Wednesday at 10 a.m. to open bids on 10 road and bridge projects estimated at $6.7 million.

Americans Suffer From Not Knowing

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The 23rd annual Southern Safety Conference was told today that Americans often suffer from the frustration of knowing "we have the better team but are not winning the game" with Russia.

Dr. Kenneth McFarland of Topeka, Kan., educational consultant for General Motors Corp. and American Trucking Associations, gave the keynote address before 1,000 delegates.

He said the United States must "have the will to use its power in order to gain a cold war advantage over communism and head off a nuclear war."

McFarland suggested that substituting "activity for action" has added to America's frustrations. McFarland, who was named outstanding salesman of the year in 1957 by the National Sales Executive Club, suggested further that an antidote for "wringing the hands is the clenched fist."

The conference, attended by delegates from 14 southern states, ends Tuesday. It features the largest display of safety features in the south.

Russia Having Trouble With Agriculture

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev demanded today intensive development of the Soviet Union's agricultural system but warned against neglect of industry.

He spoke at a secret meeting of the Soviet Communist party's Central Committee, especially called to spur the country's state-managed farmers into higher production.

Details of his speech were not immediately released, but radio Moscow said in a brief summary that Khrushchev pointed out that discussing the question of agriculture "does not mean we are easing up on demands on the work of industry, although there are no little shortcomings in industry also."

The summary quoted Khrushchev as saying, however, that industry is developing successfully and its output has increased 33 per cent since the beginning of the seven-year plan in 1959.

The summary made no mention of the fact that agriculture has increased its production only about 5 per cent in the past three years.

"Agriculture touches on the interests of nearly every person. The level of development of agriculture determines to a certain extent the well being of the people," Khrushchev was quoted. "Therefore, the further advance of agriculture and the increasing of the output of food products must be considered by us as a general party and general public matter."

The few details were released by the radio after Khrushchev had been speaking several hours. The broadcast said he was continuing his speech.

According to the radio the first portion of his speech was devoted largely to stating that building communism in the Soviet Union was a matter of importance not only to the Soviet people but to people everywhere in the world.

"The ruling circles of the imperialist powers," it quoted Khrushchev, "fear the great ideas in the program of the Communist party of the Soviet Union. The imperialists of the United States of America are worried most of all by the program of the Communist party of the Soviet Union which has set the task of creating Communist abundance as opposed to capitalist abundance."

Foreign correspondents were not allowed to attend the closed party meeting.

Khrushchev, who has devoted major attention over the past year to the Soviet Union's ailing agriculture, has indicated some proposals designed to boost crop production.

"To raise more grain, we want to allow less land to lie fallow. We have also urged that more land be taken out of grass and soil building crops — conservation

A-Plant at South Pole Operating

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission says its atomic power plant at the South Pole is now in operation.

The medium-sized portable power plant at McMurdo Sound, the first in the antarctic, achieved a controlled, self-sustained chain reaction Saturday afternoon, the commission reported Sunday.

After further tests the plant will be used to produce 1,500 net kilowatts of electricity for McMurdo, the principal support base for all U.S. scientific activities in the icy continent.

Florida Bros. to Trial on Tax Charge

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Federal attorneys said today that corporations owned or controlled by Andrew and George Florida will face four methods of manipulating funds to defraud the government on income tax returns.

U.S. Atty. Robert L. Handros appeared for the government at the opening of the $9.5 million income tax suit brought against the wealthy Osceola brothers.

Handros said there were 25 escrow accounts apparently involved in business transactions of the Floridas. Eighteen of these, he contended, were on the books of one company, Continental Land Co., while seven "were not on the books of any company."

The tax division attorney charged also that it paid in selling houses by the land company went into one or another of the eighteen accounts and then was withdrawn to purchase stock in Andrew Florida's or his wife's name.

Other methods of evasion the government claims were:

1. Over estimating the cost of land for income tax purposes.
2. Expenses of the brothers being paid by their corporations.
3. Office equipment bought by an insurance company controlled by the brothers being paid for by other corporations and deducted from their taxes.

A motion by defense attorneys to examine the government files was denied on grounds that confidential information was contained which might be used later for criminal fraud charges.

A second motion seeking a jury trial was similarly denied.

Low-flying Planes Ruled a Hazard

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court decided today a property owner forced to move from his home because of low-flying airplanes from a nearby airport is entitled to compensation.

The decision was in the case of Thomas N. Griggs, who sought compensation from Allegheny County, owner and operator of the Greater Pittsburgh Airport.

Justice Douglas delivered the 7-2 decision. Justice Black wrote a dissent in which Justice Frankfurter joined.

Griggs said planes zoomed over his house as low as 11.36 feet above the roof, shook plaster from ceilings and walls, and made conversation in the house impossible. He said occupants were unable to sleep "even with earplugs and sleeping pills," and in fear for their lives, finally moved away.

A Board of Viewers, set up under Pennsylvania law, awarded Griggs $12,690 against the county. That was set aside, however, by the Pennsylvania Supreme Court. It ruled there had not been an unconstitutional taking by the county of the airspace above the Griggs property. It suggested Griggs press trespass suits against owners or operators of aircraft. Griggs appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court, asking that the county be held liable for compensation.

Ex-Convict to Trial in Slaying

FINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — A Tucker Prison Farm convict who is accused of slaying a Lake Village farmer after escaping from the prison goes on trial for first degree murder here March 21.

Charles Franklin Fields, 31, escaped from the prison farm Jan. 15 and during his brief bid for freedom, officers said, stole several vehicles, raped one woman and killed C. A. Mencer. Fields was a trustee and allowed to carry a gun.

Russia Accepts Arms Proposal Reluctantly

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev has reluctantly accepted a U.S.-British proposal to open the 18-nation disarmament conference at Geneva next week with a foreign ministers meeting, officials reported today.

The Soviet government sent the United States a message, delivered to the State Department Sunday, advising that Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko will go to Geneva.

Authorities said the first quick study of the note indicated Gromyko will also be ready to attend a preliminary session with U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home, as the Western governments had proposed.

U.S. disarmament chief William Foster said in a television interview Sunday night that the United States now wants an even tighter inspection system than it would have been willing to accept, last year prior to Soviet nuclear test series which began in September after months of secret preparations.

He said the West would not be prepared to take Khrushchev's word that the Soviets would not test again.

The new note from Moscow was expected to get personal attention from President Kennedy. He returned today from a weekend at Middleburg, Va.

Kennedy announced Friday night that the United States will resume nuclear weapons tests in the atmosphere in late April unless the Soviet Union signs an effective test ban treaty before that time.

The meeting of foreign ministers in advance of the general arms talks would deal primarily with the nuclear test ban problem. For the past three years, negotiations on that particular issue were conducted by the three powers at Geneva until they broke down after the surprise Soviet test series.

Authorities said the note from Moscow put an end to the uncertainty which has troubled U.S. officials over the level at which the disarmament talks would start.

Khrushchev had insisted since mid-February that the talks must begin with a summit conference, bringing together the heads of as many of the 18 countries as could get to Geneva by March 14.

Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan said they would be prepared to go to a summit meeting at a later stage if progress in the talks warranted that, but they argued a top-level beginning of disarmament negotiations would do more harm than good by tending to freeze national positions on the whole range of disarmament issues.

A. H. Biddle, 86, Dies in Local Hospital Saturday

A. H. Biddle, aged 86, a longtime resident of this area, died Saturday in a local hospital. He is survived by his wife, four sons, Warren and James Biddle of Hope, Joseph of Magnolia; William Biddle of Hooke, Tex.; five daughters, Mrs. Oscar Dindney, Mrs. Arthur Powell, Mrs. Nora Jones, all of Hope; Mrs. Kul Powell of El Dorado, Calif.; and Mrs. Elbert Tonny of Florida; two stepdaughters, a sister, Mrs. Lou Galloway of Patmos; three brothers, Joe and Charlie Biddle of Patmos and Billy Biddle of Rosston.

Services were held at 3 p.m. Sunday at the Heindon-Cornelius Chapel. Burial was in Belts Cemetery, near Hope.

Melton May Run

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Marvin Melton of Jonesboro, former state senator and board chairman of Arkansas state Chamber of Commerce, says he is giving serious consideration to running for governor this summer. "I think people want a change," he said. "I may not be the man they want to vote for, but I think they want a change."

Some of the new hats look like they had made a forced landing on a short runway.

Qct. 1960 and the average for the entire South rose 11% during the same period.

The egg market is nationwide. If the Delight people are successful in controlling the Dallas-Ft. Worth market they will still have to sell at the national price level. If this price falls lower and lower who will be left the most, the farm producers, of course.

2. The proposed bond issue calls for an expenditure of ONLY $50,000 for an egg processing plant and yet this is about the only phase of the program being pushed by the proponents of the bond issue. They don't tell you that the bond issue will give the Delight Egg Farm $150,000 plus to build poultry houses for 100,000 layers. In other words, the taxpayers will put Delight Egg Farms in competition with the company's present farm producers.

3. Recently in a speech on the floor of the U. S. Senate Senator John J. Williams (R. Del.) criticized the granting of loans by governmental agencies to the poultry industry. "Millions of dollars," he said, "were poured out last year (1961) to finance the increased production of broilers, turkeys and commercial eggs, with the result that they have brought this industry to the verge of bankruptcy."

As in Hope, the Chamber of Commerce in Morrilton has requested bond issues amounting to $150,000 to build a poultry processing plant in that city. The news story in the Arkansas Post (Feb. 28) did not say, but it is supposed the issue will include funds for a new hatchery and a new feed mill as well. Poultry leaders in that region are pointing out that there is no shortage of facilities for processing, hatching or feeding chickens in the Morrilton area and they are questioning the wisdom of such an outlay of tax supported money. Even at this distance, but realizing the critical condition of all phases of the poultry industry, we, too, question the wisdom of the proposed Morrilton bond issue.

HOT HORSES — Racing on the frozen Obersee, or Upper Lake, is quite the sport in Arosa, Swiss resort 6,000 feet above sea level in the heart of the Alps. Just to make it harder, these hot horses are competing on the slippery, dangerous jumping course.

but maybe the situation is different in Hope.

4. Most farm producers of eggs appear to favor the construction of an enlarged egg processing plant in Hope, but at the same time they tell me, providing I won't quote them individually, that they are opposed to having the taxpayers underwrite the construction of houses for 100,000 layers for the Delight Egg Farms.

Farm producers have not received the assistance of the county's taxpayers in the construction of their houses and won't be able to secure such assistance should they be forced to expand their present facilities. When they became egg producers four years ago they were limited to 1,200 hens, being told this was as many hens as they could care for properly and this number would provide a comfortable income for them. Within two years they were told they should expand to 4,000 or 5,000 hens to receive a living income. Most producers did so with the aid of borrowed money for which they mortgaged their farms and homes.

Now these same people are telling their producers they must expand to a 10,000 hen capacity if they expect to make a comfortable income. Few farm producers will be able to expand to this capacity because they won't be able to secure additional credit and if they do expand to house 10,000 hens they won't be able to care for them without hiring more help or by installing the latest in expensive mechanical equipment. All of this will probably mean that many farm producers will be crowded out of the egg production picture. Some will simply quit, others will sell their farms and many may lose their farms to the mortgage holders and, no doubt, many farm families will leave Hempstead County and Arkansas.

In conclusion, let me say that I have documented my remarks relative to the falling egg market from a dozen or more sources and I have talked with people connected with all phases of the egg industry in this three-county area. I have talked with a representative of the Delight Egg Farms and Bill Watson attended the Lions luncheon Monday as my guest.

Arguments for the bond issue may overcome objections which I have raised and a majority of the voters may approve issuance measures in force since Stalin's day.

The premier has told farm managers repeatedly to "take a chance," to plow up more land and plant it in grain.

Some farm experts contend that to plow up grassland and put in more wheat will drain semi-arid land of its fertility and result in poor yields in future years. They say more than half the Soviet crop land is semi-arid where conservation is considered vital.

The Communist party newspaper Pravda took note of the meeting by publishing a flood of complaints about impending crop failures and other farm problems which remain unsolved as the Soviet Union moves into the fourth year of its latest seven-year plan.

Many of the party leaders assembled for the committee meeting are from farming areas where Pravda complains the problems are most acute.

2 Gangland Killings in Illinois

BELLEVEILLE, Ill. (AP) — Two henchmen of gang leader Frank (Buster) Wortman were shot to death Saturday night and authorities speculated the murders might mark the start of a war for control of rackets in the St. Louis area.

Found dead on a lonely road in St. Clair County were Elmer (Dutch) Dowling, 58, and Mel Beckman, 32. Police considered Dowling as Wortman's top aide. Beckman, authorities said, was Dowling's protégé.

Dowling died from a bullet in the head. Beckman was shot three times in the head and neck.

Deputy Ed Kowalski called the murders "typical gangland slayings." Another policeman said, "It looks like a gang war's in the making."

Virtually every top hoodlum in the St. Louis area, including Wortman, Jimmy Michaels, Joseph Costello and John Vitale, and a dozen lesser underworld figures were questioned Sunday.

Deputy William Butler said Wortman appeared shaken when told of the slayings.

Costello, an ex-convict, formerly headed the old Ace Cab Company in St. Louis. Michaels is a former member of the old Cuckoo gang in St. Louis and Vitale is one of St. Louis' top hoodlums.

The bodies were found by three youths on Wold Branch School Road, about three miles northwest of Belleville, which is 16 miles east of St. Louis.

Beckman's car was found Sunday in a bowling alley parking lot here. Its interior was covered with blood. Chief sheriff's investigator Joe Koch said the slayer apparently hid in the back seat while the victims were out of the auto.

111 Persons Killed in Air Crash

YAOUNDE, Cameroon (AP) — Rescue parties reached the charred wreckage of a chartered British airliner in a swamp near Douala today and found all 111 persons aboard dead.

It was Africa's worst air crash and the fourth worst disaster recorded in aviation history.

Witnesses said the four-engine DC7C seemed to make a normal takeoff for Europe in a light rain Sunday night, then suddenly plummeted into a swamp less than two miles from the airport at Douala, largest city in the West African republic of Cameroon.

The plane exploded on impact and burned fiercely.

The plane carried 101 passengers—among them three children—on route from South Africa, Rhodesia and Moambique to Europe. It had a crew of 10, including three hostesses.

The passengers included 42 Britons, many of them living in Rhodesia, 4 South Africans, and a sprinkling of Dutch, Germans, Danes, Australians, Irish and Italian. The nationality of three passengers was not known, but the airline said it knew of no Americans aboard.

Rescue efforts during the night were hampered by darkness and the swampy terrain.

The worst previous crash in Africa was that of an Air France Super Constellation in which 79 were killed in the Sahara on May 10, 1961.

The propeller-driven airliner crashed after leaving the Portuguese colony of Douala. The ship's destination was Luxembourg, but most of the passengers were bound for Britain. It had been chartered by another British outfit, Trans-African Air Coach Ltd., Caledonian Airways, with offices in Prestwick, Scotland, went

Protest to Nuclear Test Is Staged

NEW YORK (AP)—Demonstrators today staged another public sitdown in protest against the United States decision to resume nuclear testing in the atmosphere, and many of them were promptly hauled off to jail.

They sang as they were carried away.

It was the second display here that led to mass arrests since President Kennedy Friday night disclosed the plan to resume tests.

The new demonstration came in front of the Atomic Energy Commission headquarters in lower Manhattan, where about 30 persons assembled and sat down on the sidewalk. A score of them were arrested.

Police, willing to allow picketing but not squatting on the sidewalk had set up wooden barriers in an effort to keep pedestrian pathways clear.

At 9 a.m., height of the work-bound rush hour, a police officer warned over a loudspeaker, "I am giving you an opportunity to change your mind. Sitting on the sidewalk is disorderly conduct."

After a five-minute wait, with the demonstrators still seated, this announcement came: "You will now be placed under arrest."

Patrolmen moved in on the group, carrying 13 men and 6 women to a police van. The demonstration onstrators broke into song during the interval, but amid the street sounds, the words could not be made out.

Thinks Americans Safety Conscious

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — W. L. Groth of Richmond, Va., executive director of the 23rd annual Southern Safety Conference which opened here Sunday, believes Americans are more safety-conscious than ever.

He cites the rise in the sale of auto seat belts, which he said will save many lives and prevent many serious injuries in highway crashes.

"People more readily accept advice and counsel on the everyday hazards of living," he said.

About 1,000 delegates from 14 Southern states are attending the conference, which lasts through tomorrow. It features the South's largest display of safety equipment.

About 600 high school youths are attending a simultaneous youth safety conference.

Arkansas: Cloudy with occasional light snow north half, partly cloudy south and cold this afternoon and tonight. Tuesday clear to partly cloudy and continued cold. Low tonight 12 to 20 north and 25 south. High Tuesday 35 to 45.

Louisiana: Generally fair and rather cold through Tuesday with freeze or frost interior tonight. Low tonight 26 to 32 north and central and 32 to 40 in extreme south portion. High Tuesday in the 50s.

Winter continued its hold on Arkansas today with scattered light snow in the northern portion of the state and chilly, gusty winds and icy temperatures elsewhere around Arkansas.

The cold snap is expected to remain through Tuesday.

The U.S. Weather Bureau reported snow in Harrison and Walnut Ridge today and said there were some flurries north of Little Rock. A spokesman said there was little prospect for any large amounts to accumulate.

The Weather Bureau said the northeast portion of the state should get only a fraction of an inch and in most areas the snow was expected to end by noon.

At Harrison the temperature dipped to 18 today and snow covered the ground in some spots.

It was generally cold over the entire state with temperatures at or below freezing except in the southern area. Harrison and Beaver had the lowest temperatures in the state, with 18. Texarkana had 36.

Today's forecast called for considerable cloudiness and cold through tonight with snow flurries of the border. If so, I hope everything works out as well as the advocates of the bond wish. The decision is up to the voters.

Cloughan and Mrs. Wardlaw. The hostess served cold drinks and a salad plate with coffee to the two tables of players.

Gardenia Club Meets

"Conditioning Materials" was the subject of Mrs. Labroy Spates who spoke at the Gardenia Garden Club meeting Thursday, March 1 in the home of Mrs. Jim James with Mrs. Lyle McMahon as co-hostess.

St. Patrick's Day was the theme of the floral arrangements brought by several club members. All studied and discussed these. The state garden club convention was talked about and tentative delegates chosen.

Mrs. Bill Rountree was a club guest for the afternoon. Cake and coffee were served for refreshments.

Coming and Going

The Vic Henderson family of Houston, Tex., visited friends in Hope this weekend.

Mrs. Ina Curtis of Buckner visited her daughter, Mrs. Chris Petre, and Mr. Petre during last week.

Mrs. Steve Carrigan, Jr. returned Friday from Little Rock where she went to the Arkansas Federation of Garden Clubs Landscape Design Study Course.

Mrs. Lloyd Spencer and Mrs. Brooks Shults of Fulton have returned from Virginia, where Mrs. Spencer visited the Bruce Gottwald family in Richmond and Mrs. Shults went to see the Jim Flippens in Norfolk.

Mrs. Ebb Johnson and family of Texarkana was the Sunday guest of Mrs. E. G. Coop. Last Friday Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Edgar Keith and son of Memphis, Tenn., visited Mrs. Coop and other relatives here.

First Arkanson to Nat'l Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Julian F. Haas of station KAGH, Crossett, Ark., is the first Arkanson ever named to the radio board of the National Association of Broadcasters.

The association announced his appointment Thursday. Haas will represent the 6th District, which includes Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Tennessee.

Haas has owned and operated KAGH for the last 10 years. Before that he was commercial manager of station KARK in Little Rock.

He is immediate past president of the Arkansas Broadcasters Association and now is serving as its vice president. He also is a former secretary of the ABA.

Restricts Immigration

LONDON (AP)—The House of Commons approved a bill Tuesday night restricting immigration to Britain from other British Commonwealth countries for the first time.

The bill will curb the increasing influx of immigrants from the West Indies, India and Pakistan. It has been denounced as a virtual color bar.

J. C. Penney to Revise Credit Plan

Two major changes in Penney's credit plan designed to increase customer convenience were announced today by W. R. Caldwell, store manager.

The changes, which went into effect March 5, are as follows: Monthly payments on charge accounts of customers who wish to spread payments over a period of time have been reduced to one-tenth of the balance of the account. Minimum payments formerly varied from one-fourth to one-sixth of the total balance.

Penney's charge account is a 30-day charge account which permits a customer to pay an account in full within 30 days of billing date without a service charge. The plan provides an option for customers who wish to spread payments over a longer period. Customers who exercise this option will benefit from the change, which will require payment of only one-tenth of the balance each month, according to Mr. Caldwell.

Payments for major home purchases made with a Penney's time payment account have been extended to a maximum of 24 months compared with the former 18 months. This account is designed specifically for major purchases of home furnishings having a minimum unit price of $45.

Penney's credit plan makes available to customers the most convenient types of charge accounts and time payment plans. Mr. Caldwell said that Penney's offering of charge accounts in no way alters the company's long standing low markup policy for customers who wish to continue to make purchases on a cash-and-carry basis.

State Man to JFK's Conference

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Brad Scott, chief of the vocational rehabilitation and education division of the Veterans Administration, Little Rock office and chairman of the Little Rock Federal Safety Council, will attend the President's Conference on Occupational Safety in Washington March 6-8.

After two days of excitement occasioned by Welensky's uninvited visit to London, a sense of calm seemed to be returning to the negotiations.

Canada's largest city, Montreal, is a manufacturing and rail-rail center and also a busy port.

DOROTHY DIX

Husband Treats Loving Daughter Like Orphan

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: After bearing my husband eight children, he remains incomprehensible to me. There is nothing our eldest daughter wouldn't do or hasn't done to help out. Whenever I'm confined with a new baby, she minds the kids, cooks, washes and irons for the family. Now she has a good job and pays us board.

Yet her father acts as if she was taking us to the cleaners' and, when she was graduated from high school, refused to attend the commencement.

She never gave me any trouble boy-wise because she didn't care about going steady and was pretty enough to pick and choose. However, a boy she knew at school has become serious. They intend to marry when he finishes medical college in six years.

I'm thankful he cares for our girl but to hear her father swear at mention of his name gives me the shudders.

When I say we should welcome the boy into our home he yells,

"Shut up!" A few weeks ago his dreadful ranting sent my daughter and me running out of the house at three in the morning with our hands clapped to our ears. We spent the balance of the night at a hotel. My daughter and her boy friend could marry sooner but it would be hard on them if he continues his medical studies. He might change his mind and be a teacher, which would take only four instead of six years at college.

I've thought many times of leaving my husband but where could I go with all my children and no means of support? Our daughter will be 19 next month. — Distraught Mother

Dear Distraught: In fairness to your eight children, you should deal with this dictator of a husband. Tell him that unless he changes his tune you will go to court; and if he doesn't, go! If you can't afford a lawyer, see a case worker in the nearest Domestic Relations Court. You r daughter, being of age, is her own boss. Is there a relative or friend with whom she might board? She might be a lifeline for you should your husband grow more abusive. Above all, don't let him push your daughter and her fiancé into a hasty marriage. The boy's career should not be sacrificed to satisfy a tyrant.

Dear Helen: I am a Christian girl dating a Jewish boy. We both go to the same high school, get along fine and enjoy each other's company. My mother isn't very happy over the situation. I don't have anything against the Jewish people. To me they are warm-hearted, intelligent and make wonderful parents. I accept his parents and they me. Yesterday my mother said I must stop seeing this boy. Help! —Desperate

Dear Desperate: People are people, regardless of their faith. If your mother really knew this boy and his family, she would be less prejudiced. Are you well enough acquainted with his mother to explain the situation? If so encourage her to make friends with your mother.

Dear Helen: I am the wife of a re-activated Reservist who is unwilling to take me along with him, on the pretext that the men were advised against bringing their wives. We have only one child and little in the way of possessions so there would be no problem in moving. Another man in the same unit has his wife and children with him.

My husband has left me and our little girl to be looked after by his family. I say he is shirking his responsibilities as a father and husband. Why should he involve his parents? Why should I be left to raise our child alone? What can I do? —Dissatisfied Wife

Dear Dissatisfied: Your husband is telling the truth. The government has advised the men against bringing their families with them, but their dependents are entitled to support. He should apply for an allotment for you and your child. This he must request—it will not be given otherwise. For two dependents, if he is a private, his contribution from his pay would be $40 a month to which the Government adds $77.10, which would make $117.10 a month. Be practical. Would it be possible for you and your baby to live on that amount of money? If you were not with his parents?

In the event that your husband does not, and will not request this allotment for you, you must go to

Leaders Push for Welfare Plan Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic congressional leaders are pushing for final action this week on two Kennedy administration bills—a pension-welfare fund regulation measure and a jobless retraining program.

Different versions of both bills have cleared the Senate and House.

Delegations from the two branches named to work out a compromise retraining measure are to hold their first session Tuesday.

The Senate and House versions of the retraining legislation would establish similar programs, but the Senate voted a four-year duration, the House two.

The House will debate Tuesday the first fiscal 1963 money bill of the session, a $5.46-billion measure to finance the Post Office and Treasury departments.

Wednesday, it will consider a $25-million federal aid program for education television stations. The Senate passed a $51-million version of the legislation more than a year ago.

The next major legislation scheduled for Senate debate, probably next week, is the controversial bill to authorize U.S. purchase of $100 million of U.N. bonds.

The House Ways and Means Committee is expected to send to the floor the tax revision measure on which it has been working since last session. This is a major administration bill.

The committee version gives business firms an important tax incentive to modernize plants and equipment, and also closes some tax loopholes but it falls short of what the President asked.

court and have the court order him to meet his obligations to his wife and son. The Government does not act in such instances.

College Cage Play Heads to Last Week

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

College basketball is heading into the last week of its regular season but in the jargon of Madison Avenue, there is considerable firming up and finalizing to the tournament-wise.

Of the two major postseason classics, the NCAA has four entries to go in its 25-member field and the National Invitation Tournament needs two more clubs to complete its 12-team competition.

At the earliest the two tournaments will have their slates filled a week from tonight, when Cincinnati and Bradley tangle on a neutral court at Evansville, Ind., to settle their Missouri Valley Conference basket.

The winner will go to the NCAA, the loser to the NIT.

The other question marks are in the Big Eight, Middle Atlantic and Southwest conferences. Each of these races could result in a playoff.

In the Big Eight, Kansas State tied Colorado for first place Saturday night with a 60-46 victory over the Buffaloes. Each has two games left, K-State at Oklahoma State tonight and at Nebraska Wednesday, Colorado at Missouri Saturday.

If they still are tied at the windup, the situation will be resolved by either a playoff or a loss of a coin.

In the Middle Atlantic, Temple is 3-1 after beating Gettysburg 49-44 Saturday while Lafayette (9-2) was losing to Delaware 57-55. St. Joseph's (12-1) is between at 7-1 and plays at Lafayette Tuesday night. This is another prime prospect for playoff, with the consolation prize for the loser a spot in the NIT.

The Southwest clubs were idle over the weekend but close out their season Tuesday night, when Texas Tech is at Rice and Southern Methodist entertains Arkansas in the key games. Tech and SMU are co-leaders at 10-3 and should they finish even, they'll play off at Fort Worth Friday night.

With the pressure on, Bradley tied Cincinnati for the Missouri Valley title with a 50-47 victory at St. Louis Saturday night. A 14-point spurt in the second half paced by All-American Cliff Walker nailed it down for the Braves.

Although a flock of titles and tournament spots were decided over the weekend and several more races were scrubbed up, the premier development was Wisconsin's celebrated upset over Ohio State.

The Badgers, swift, confident and determined, ran off from the Buckeyes 86-67 in posting the biggest surprise of the year. Ohio State, unchallenged as the country's No. 1 team with a spotless 22-0 record and already winner of its third successive Big Ten title, played even at Wisconsin until the buzzing Badgers started pulling away late in the first half. Afterward, it was a futile game of trying to catch up for the Bucks.

Elsewhere Saturday, All America Len Chappell's 31 points led Wake Forest to a 75-66 victory over Clemson in the big Atlantic Coast tourney title game. West Virginia smothered nervous Virginia Tech 88-72 and took its seventh Southern Conference title in eight years.

Massachusetts won its first Yankee crown, beating New Hampshire 109-82. Pepperdine swept to the West Coast A.C. championship by stopping St. Mary's 81-76. Utah State earned the Skyline Conference's NCAA berth with its 80-77 decision over New Mexico, paced by Cornell Green's 36 points. And Kentucky was named the Southeastern Conference representative to the NCAA.

Experimental Plane Kills Inventor

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — An experimental aircraft called a Skyscooter crashed at a Civil Air Patrol demonstration Sunday and killed its inventor, Herman A. Saffeld, 32, head of the Saffeld Aircraft Co. of suburban Santee.

The Skyscooter, resembling a midjet helicopter, crashed from a height of 100 feet. Saffeld was flying alone.

The Skyscooter was driven by a pusher propeller. It had a non-powered rotor on top to give it stability.

Sir Gaylord Stronger Derby Choice

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sir Gaylord's position as the favorite for the May 5 running of the Kentucky Derby was stronger than ever today following the unexpected victory of Prego in the $13,200 Flamingo at Hialeah Park and the more or less expected triumph of Royal Attack in the $152,100 Santa Anita Derby.

The star of C. T. Chenery's Meadow Stable missed the Flamingo because of a minor ankle injury. But there was nothing in Prego's victory, achieved after Sunrise County finished first and then was disqualified, that should cause Sir Gaylord's followers to lose any sleep. There were no shouts of "another Swaps or Determine" after Royal Attack carried Neil McCarthy's colors to a three-quarter length triumph over Fred W. Hooper's Admiral's Voyage.

Backers of Mrs. Moody Jolley's Ridan, all-victorious last year but unable to win a major stakes as a 3-year-old, did see a ray of hope in the colt's Flamingo performance. Ridan staged a great stretch drive to finish third, a neck back of Prego.

Ridan, however, was moved up to second after Sunrise County, who finished first by 1½ lengths, was disqualified for bearing out in the stretch. Sunrise County was placed third.

Sir Gaylord has beaten all of the Flamingo field at one time or the other, except Dead Ahead, and probably will get another chance to show his superiority in the $200,000-added Florida Derby at Gulfstream Park March 31.

Time for the 1½ miles of the Flamingo, with all horses carrying 122 pounds, was 1:49, two seconds off Bold Ruler's track

Campbell in First Big Tourney Win

By BEN THOMAS

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — A faint grin played across the face of stocky Joe Campbell as he walked off the 18th green after sinking a five-foot putt for par. It was the first change in expression for Campbell throughout the marathon 36-hole windup of the $20,000 Baton Rouge Open. Then he broke into a big smile as he accepted congratulations for his first tournament victory in the PGA tour since last November's Beaumont Open.

Campbell, 26, was poker-faced as he played the final two rounds, a cigar clenched between his teeth. He carded a 67 and a 68 Sunday to go with a 68-70 for a 274-hole total, 14 strokes under par and two ahead of his closest pursuer, former PGA titlist Bob Rosburg.

His 274 broke the record of 275 for the tourney on the 6,411-yard Baton Rouge Country Club layout set in 1954 by Sam Snead.

"Three putts on the final round did it," said Campbell, who picked up a $3,000 check. "I didn't relish the 36-hole final, but it worked out okay."

The double-round finish was caused by postponement of Thursday's opening round due to rain and cold. The weather again threatened to delay the tourney and stake record.

At Santa Anita, where the Derby record is 1:47 4-5 and the track mark 1:4 2-5, Royal Attack was clocked in a sluggish 1:49 3-5 under 118 pounds.

In the other major race Saturday, Carry Back, the 1961 three-year-old champion, again went down to defeat as he finished third back of Yorktown and Hillsborough in the $64,500 New Orleans handicap at the Fair Grounds.

Gay Iefoke Wins Cotton Handicap

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Gay Iefoke, ably ridden by Wayne Chambers, staged a fast-charging finish to take a two-length victory in Saturday's $10,000 King Cotton Handicap at Oaklawn Park.

Chambers moved his mount from ninth place in the stretch to first in the final 100 yards. Past W. Hal Bishop's Eight Again who had led much of the way.

August Mueckler Jr.'s Decemster, the favorite, was two lengths back in third.

Gone Evans' Gay Iefoke, the third betting choice of the crowd of 14,253 paid $8.00 $5.00 and $3.60.

Saturday's total mutual handle for the nine-race card was $736,327. Saturday's total mutual handle for the nine-race card was $736,327.

In the first race of the day, apprentice jockey Roy Frazier

18-year-old Hot Springs product, narrowly escaped serious injury when Clara Dare, a four-year-old filly, crashed into the inside rail.

Frazier, who had ridden his first winner only last week, was thrown into the infield. His mount suffered

Semifinals in NAIA at Pine Bluff

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — The semifinals of the Region 17 NAIA basketball tournament open tonight with all favorites but Arkansas A&M still in contention for a berth in the national tournament.

The Aggies were stunned by side injuries but was able to walk away.

Frazier was examined at a nearby clinic and then sent home.

The highly-regarded Battle Ground, an Arkansas Derby prospect, leads a field of eight into today's $3,200 Continental Trailways purse.

Battle Ground, owned by B. R. Evans and J. Barnes, has won his only two starts, one at Churchill Downs last year and his debut here last week.

His Churchill Downs victory resulted in his being called one of the fastest two-year-olds in Kentucky.

Rounding out the field are Al Bisignano's Father Jerry, who shares equal topweight with Battle Ground at 114 pounds; Clarence N. Wilson's Nice W., Winchester Stable's A Man Who, C. B. McNeill's The Nuts, John D. Askey's Andys Gift, H. Lindsey's Matsuo and Stanley Conrad's Old Hat.

The AIC's leading scorer, Ken Saylor, sparked the Wander Boys with 20 points in their victory over Hendrix. Although Hendrix outshot Tech from the field 24-19, Tech overwhelmed the Warriors from the charity line 30-10.

The Tigers from Ouachita got a late scare from Henderson in the first meeting of the two schools in nine years but held off the Reddies to win.

Wayne Davenport paced Ouachita with 26 points while Jim Bryan took scoring honors with 27 for Henderson.

A&M played hot and cold, but more often cold, in falling to Arkansas College.

Bobcats Stage Big Upset Over Bucks

By VINCE FOSTER

The Hope Bobcats staged one of the biggest high school upsets of the season Saturday night, as they won the 4AA District Tournament and Championship over Smackover 61-50 on the Bucks' home court. Camden whipped Fairview in the consolation game.

The Bucks, previously rated the sixth team in the state, won the round robin with an undefeated record of 12-0. They had beaten the Cats 20 points and 8 points in the regular season, but Saturday Hope cracked this unblemished district record and picked a perfect time to do it. Smackover had been picked by some sources to win the AAA-AA State tourney this week, but this upset has changed many minds.

Mass confusion broke out on the court, seconds after Don Jones sewed it up with a jump shot putting Hope ahead 5 points with only seconds remaining, as the large crowd of Hope fans poured onto the floor hollering, crying and congratulating the district champion Bobcat team. It was sometime before enough order could be restored so that the Cats could receive their trophy. One of the nets was also taken down to be placed in the trophy.

The game was a close one all the way with the lead changing hands often, although Hope managed to be ahead at the end of each quarter. The score stood 13-12 after the first quarter and the Cats and Bucks took 18 each in the second with Hope out front 31-30 at the half. The scoring was 13 each in the third quarter, as Hope led 44-43 going into the final period. The lead kept changing hands in that quarter until the last minute when Jackie Russell sank a key jump shot to put Hope out front 61-50. Buckaroo Agre was fouled, but he missed both free throws as the pressure was too much. Don Jones was also fouled, and although he missed his free throw, he relieved the ball in time to sink a jump shot before the final buzzer.

Jeffery Powell and Danny Hatfield were high for Hope with 13 each, followed by Jackie Russell with 12 and Earl Ray Murphy with 10. Jones scored 8, Roberts 6, and Porterfield 2 to complete the scoring. Hatfield led the Cats in rebounding.

It should be noted that Coach Billy Mitchell hasn't lost a district championship since he began coaching in Hope. His Bobkittens won it in '60. His Bobcats won it in '61 and they won it again Saturday night to keep the streak going. Also his juniors won the Emmet Invitational in '60 and the Bobcats won the Hope Holiday Tourney this year to add two more to the trophy case. Certainly Coach Mitchell should be commended for this perfect championship record.

The Bobcats enter the State Tournament at Little Rock Wednesday, meeting Springdale at 3:20 p.m. Springdale has a very good club and finished third in the tough IAA District. Smackover and Fairfield High (co-champions, Big 9) open the tournament at 2 p.m. Tuesday, while Camden meets Green County Tech at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

A large crowd of Hope boosters journeyed to Smackover and it is hoped that as many or more will follow them to Little Rock Wednesday. If Hope beats Springdale, they will meet the winner of the North Little Rock-Benton game at 7:30 p.m. Thursday. Remember: Hope vs. Springdale, 3:30 p.m. Wednesday, Barton Coliseum in Little Rock.

Chamberlain Near a Pro Score Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Will Chamberlain is about six days away from becoming the first player ever to hit 4,000 points in a single National Basketball Association season.

The 7-foot-1 star of the Philadelphia Warriors, who scored 100 points Friday night against New York for another of many league firsts, has 3,921 points so far this season. He hit 58 against the Knicks Sunday in helping the Warriors score a 129-120 victory. He goes against Boston on Wednesday and Bill Russell of the Celtics is not about let any man score 79 points against him. But Chamberlain should do well enough to set up the record tally for his game Sunday in Syracuse. And he'll still have another game to go if he needs it.

The Philadelphia victory, coming on Chamberlain's feed to Paul Arizin with only 29 seconds to play, did nothing to change the Eastern Division lineup. Pennant-winning Boston blew a 24-point lead, fell behind by 14, then roared back to beat St. Louis 123-120.

Western Division champion Los Angeles knocked off Syracuse 124-115 and Detroit broke a six-game losing streak by beating Chicago 133-116 in other games.

Writers Invited

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk has invited 2,000 American editors and television and radio broadcasters to a foreign policy briefing at which President Kennedy will take part. The two-day conference will open March 26, it was announced Wednesday.

$2 Bill Payoff

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Executives of a manufacturing plant plan to pay 450 employees Friday in $2 bills to mark the 30th anniversary of the company.

Plant manager Joseph Modatie, vice president of Union Underwear Co., said that as the $2 bills filter into stores "it will illustrate graphically how an industry benefits the local economy."

The flower bulb industry of Holland employs 25,000 of the country's 11 million inhabitants.

Bobcats Play Springdale in State Meet

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Fayetteville's Bulldogs, favorite in the Class AA-AAA state basketball tournament which opens here tomorrow, will get to watch almost every other team in the meet before they go into first-round action.

Fayetteville meets Blytheville, the third-place finisher in the Big Nine Conference, in the last game of the first round at 8:50 p.m. Wednesday.

The Bulldogs will have a chance to scout the darkhorse candidates, Little Rock Hall and North Little Rock, who play earlier games.

Hall opens the meet at 2 p.m. Tuesday with Smackover, the second-place team from Region 4AA. Hall is 21-6 to Smackover's 18-4.

Then Jonesboro (26-6) meets Russellville at 3:20 p.m. in the second first round game. Harrison (22-6) takes on Fort Smith (11-8) at 7:30 p.m. and Paragould meets Conway (16-12) at 8:50 p.m. to complete Tuesday's action.

North Little Rock, which won nine in a row on its way to a tie for the Big Nine title, faces Benton (16-11) at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

North Little Rock wound up with a 16-12 record and once was 3-4 in Big Nine play. The Wildcats may have the momentum which often proves vital in tournaments.

Hope (18-8) plays Springdale (14-7) at 3:20 p.m. Wednesday and Greene County Tech (23-10) meets Camden at 7:30 p.m. Then Fayetteville (25-1) plays Blytheville (12-8) in the final first round game.

Quarterfinals will be Thursday afternoon and Thursday night, and semifinals will be Friday night. The championship game is set for 8 p.m. Saturday.

Helen, the defending champion, did not get through its regional tournament. Fayetteville, Hall, North Little Rock and Paragould are the seeded teams. Paragould won the Region 2AA tournament Saturday night and Hope won the 4AA meet. Regions 1AA and 3AA chose representatives by final conference standings.

Manila Has State Class B Title

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Manila completely outclassed a smaller Brinkley squad take the Class A state basketball championship 9-63 here Saturday night.

The Lions, paced by 6-5 center Jerry Vance, grabbed an early lead, raced to a 42-27 halftime advantage and never faltered in gaining the state title.

Vance, who paced the Lions' scoring attack with 18 points, was selected the tournament's outstanding player.

Bill Patterson laughed off Manila double-teaming to take scoring honors with 34 points.

Brinkley staged a third quarter comeback and pulled to within eight points but lightened Manila defense stymied the Tigers' bid.

Named to the all-tournament squad, in addition to Vance and Patterson were Harold Rainey and Bonnie McCann of Manila; Gene Ary and Dean Autry of Berryville; Steve Rousseau of DeWitt; Ray Bonds of Clinton; John Johnson of Drew Central; and Wally Freeman of Sheridan.

DeWitt received the sportsmanship trophy.

Sparkman Fighter Knocks Out Two

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Jim Crosley of Sparkman kayaked two opponents Saturday to gain the finals of the Arkansas AAU boxing tournament here Saturday.

Crosley needed only 51 seconds in the first round of a bout Saturday morning to drop Chico Hernandez of Forrest City.

In the semifinals of the 147-pound novice division Saturday night, Crosley again served short notice and flattened John Miller of Pine Bluff in 1:41 of the first round.

Highly-regarded Clyde Book of Crossett failed to see Dick Bieker of Fort Smith move in swiftly in the third round of their 126-pound division and fell for a technical knockout.

Finals will be held next Saturday night.

Powers Set to Give Data on Flight

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers will tell his story in open session for the first time before the Senate Armed Services Committee Tuesday afternoon, Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., announced today. Russell made the announcement after a secret briefing by Central Intelligence Director John A. McCone before two Senate subcommittees which monitor the super-secret agency.

The Georgia senator declined to give any personal evaluation of McCone's report, which was an account of the lengthy quizzing of Powers since his return to the United States.

Russell did say McCone would repeat the briefing before the full Senate Armed Services Committee Tuesday morning.

The two groups which heard today's report were subcommittees of the Armed Services and Appropriations committees.

The closed briefing this morning lasted an hour and a half.

Earlier it had been reported that a special board of inquiry found that Powers generally complied with orders on his ill-fated flight over Russia.

In the aftermath of extensive interrogation Powers is likely to be revealed as a man who met unexplained disaster and coped with it reasonably well. The 32-year-old pilot reportedly has not been able to shed much light on how his plane was forced down deep inside the U.S.S.R. May 1, 1960.

Director John A. McCone of the Central Intelligence Agency was scheduled to present his evaluation of the board's report today to a special Senate watchdog group.

Powers, who had been sentenced to prison on spying charges, was released by the Soviet Union last month in exchange for Soviet master spy Rudolf I. Abel.

Since then, Powers has been kept out of sight by government interrogators. His capture, trial and imprisonment was probed by a special board headed by retired federal Judge E. Barrett Pryor.

Powers is understood to have contended that the force of his plane's speedy descent prevented action to destroy it.

Nevertheless, there is resentment among some members of Congress over the pilot's failure to destroy his plane and its equipment when it fell to Soviet soil. These members said there were five different methods of destroying the craft.

Military experts doubt Soviet claims that anti-aircraft missiles brought it to earth from an altitude of more than 60,000 feet.

Some members of Congress who have received piecemeal information about the inquiry said they felt the findings generally would uphold a June 1960 report in which the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said it had "no reason to believe that technical prepara-

Picket Lines Around the Missile Bases

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Picket lines were thrown up around all 16 central Arkansas Titan II missile sites today in a jurisdictional labor dispute.

Glenn Conley, project manager, said the dispute was between sheet metal workers (Local 249) and carpenters (Local 690) over installing insulation.

Conley said picketing was going on at all sites but the carpenters remained on the job. Work had not been stopped completely.

About 1,000 laborers are employed at the sites.

Col. Julian Blyer, commander of the Site Activation Task Force at Little Rock Air Force Base, termed the surprise action unfair.

"This is a rather unfair method of trying to accomplish anything," Blyer said.

Blyer told newsmen that union representatives at a meeting last week had no grievances to air.

He said he had informed Sen. John L. McClellan last week the project was 40 days ahead of schedule and there had been no labor problems.

"One week later, I look like a liar," Blyer said.

tions for the flight were faulty or that the pilot was unreliable in any respect."

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., said in an interview that McCone will be asked to duplicate his testimony Tuesday for the full Armed Services Committee. Russell, who heads the committee, said he will ask its members to vote on whether they want to call Powers for questioning.

After a conference with Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., told a reporter the Senate Foreign Relations Committee is interested only in completing its 1960 inquiry.

"We are not interested in perceiving Powers or in making him a hero," Sparkman said. "He will be called only if the committee feels that action is necessary to round out its record."

Union Forces Goldberg to Explain

By JAMES MARLOW Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary

of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, has had to blow away some of the semantic fog that settled around a talk he made about the government's role in collective bargaining.

He was responsible for some of the fog. The rest came from people who didn't like what they heard, or thought they heard.

In a speech last Friday in Chicago he said:

"In the past when government officials were called upon to assist in collective bargaining their only aim was to achieve a settlement."

"Today, in the light of our nation's commitments both at home and abroad, government and private mediators must increasingly provide guidelines to the parties to insure that the settlements reached are right settlements that are not only in the interest of the parties themselves but which also take into account the public interest."

Just what are guidelines? Goldberg didn't quite make this clear at the time. But AFL-CIO President George Meany and some people in the steel industry didn't wait to find out.

Both of them thought Goldberg had in mind more government interference. Goldberg was so disturbed by this reaction that he called in reporters Wednesday to explain.

What it amounted to was this: The government does intend to stick its fingers a little deeper into labor-management wage disputes when the outcome - either in higher prices and wages or a strike - will affect the national welfare at home or abroad.

It has been common practice for a government mediator, when called in to help straighten out a snarled up union-management negotiation, to suggest to one side settlement terms he thinks are reasonable enough for the other side to accept.

But Goldberg, who said flatly he is against any government wage or price controls or compulsory arbitration, explained what

Happenings in Life in Arkansas

BY J. C. TILLMAN

Associated Press Staff Writer

OTTO J. DEDEN of Fort Smith has a hobby of a hobby.

Deden, a grocer, has a collection of samples of honey, gleaned from each of the 50 states of the nation and some foreign countries.

He started the collection 17 years ago, just to have a hobby.

This past month, he completed his "domestic" collection with a small two-ounce bottle from Alaska, at $3.70 an ounce. This, of course, doesn't include the cost of correspondence, time, etc.

Deden says he has spent over $500 on his hobby and written over Canada, Mexico, Ireland and Ceylon and is dicker for Italian honey now.

Alaskan honey, he says, tastes the sweetest. Honey from New Jersey and Delaware is hardest to get.

No one can say that at least one city can driver doesn't know—or constantly break—all the traffic laws.

Seen in Little Rock:

A cab driver, obviously in the usual hurry, eased around a car slowing down to give a red signal to turn green. In his haste, he went on through the red signal, screeched to a halt and sheepishly backed up—all the way across the intersection!

In Helena, death has left a memory of a woman known mainly as "Ma" Cunningham.

Though she was known as "Ma," it was mostly as an aunt that she shined.

For years she mothered bachelors and boarders in her rooming house. Then one day she called one of her favorite former roomers to "come home" and meet a nephew.

That nephew, whom she described over the phone as "some-what of a bum," was one of the nation's best loved "hobos"—Red Skelton.

Asked why she had never revealed their kinship, "Ma" said, "Well, one can't get warmth and sunshine out of life by trying to hide in the shade of a family tree."

What with all the city ordinances, permits, etc., and some folks' desire to protect their houses, the Lee Sayres of Stuttgart may have started a trend.

The other day, they decided they didn't want to damage the new roof of their home by re-installing an antenna there, so they took a friend's suggestion and put it in the attic. It worked fine!

As one was quipped, "If their antenna ever blows down, brother, we've had it!"

Once again - this time near Camden-folks have proved that there ain't no such thing as a "hant."

Reports from carloads of young people visiting the Amy area after he had in mind:

Neither he nor the government intends to try to impose settlement terms in collective bargaining but to suggest in a general way—and sometimes very specifically—what will be good for the national interest.

This amounts to moral pressure. And there's nothing new in that. But Goldberg also has an idea that will bring public pressure to bear on a union and management in an important industry after a settlement, when it could have no practical effect on the outcome.

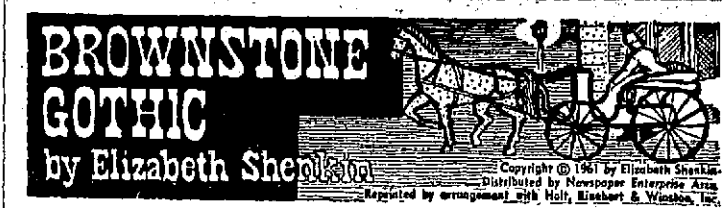

He said he intends to have the government lay down statistics—and statistics would mean wages, prices, costs, hours worked in comparison with other industries—before a dispute gets out of hand.

The Kennedy administration already has put more pressure on the steel industry and the steel workers union, now busy in bargaining on a new contract, by calling for a fair settlement.

The last time there was a steel strike - 116 days in 1959 - the whole country felt the effects.

Chapter 25

Jenny was quite transformed when Hilda rejoined her. She was holding one of the prettiest of Race's bouquets, and she was just opening a letter that had come with the flowers. Then, as she read, her look changed again. She finished the letter and reread it, slowly.

At last, she looked at Hilda, not as though she were seeing her, but just as someone who was there. Her face was white and blank. "I don't believe it," she said, letting the flowers fall from her limp hand.

"What is it, Jenny?" Hilda asked, halting herself.

"It's—it's a letter from Race," Jenny answered in the same blank tone. "He says Aunt Judith found out I asked him to meet me this afternoon, and she threatened to cut off his allowance, if he came near me. She—she forbidden him the house."

"Jenny, I'm so sorry it means so much to you," Hilda couldn't keep the distress from her voice. "But, after all, if he really cared for you, he wouldn't let a threat like that affect him."

Jenny didn't seem to have heard. "How could Aunt Judith have found out?" she asked again and suddenly,

Their Songs Always Well Received

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Irving Berlin and the late George M. Cohan have written so many of the nation's best loved songs that almost any program which just plays the familiar tunes is bound to be pleasant.

And pleasant—faint praise—were two weekend television shows built out of the work of the two men, Sunday night's NBC's "Regards to George M. Cohan" was the more ambitious of the two. It attempted, with a notable lack of success, to combine television's over used biographical techniques — old photographs, news reel clips, theater posters, and earnest narration — with gay musical production numbers. They didn't combine.

A talented but obviously uncomfortable cast including Peter Lind Hayes tried to make something of the quaint old numbers. "Give My Regards to Broadway" and "I'm A Yankee Doodle Dandy" — were presented in clips from an old James Cagney movie — and were the high points of the show.

Irving Berlin's music was the subject of Friday night's Telephone Hour. The production suffered from a sort of stiffness and a lack of style characteristic of this series. It even affected vivacious Ginger Rogers and Janet Blair.

Ed Sullivan now has pretty Barbara Britton as his saleswoman chum instead of Julia Meade. But he had time troubles Sunday night.

Comedian Henry Youngman only got enough time for about two mild jokes. But Phyllis Diller rambled on for an eternity about the discomforts of eating in a Japanese restaurant, getting falling from two much saki wasn't with her.

Will Insist on Foolproof Test Treaty

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chief U.S. disarmament negotiator says the West will insist that any nuclear test-ban treaty with the Soviet Union include a system of cross-inspection to guard against secret test preparations.

William C. Foster, who will head the U.S. team at the Geneva disarmament conference scheduled to begin March 14, said the West would not take Soviet Premier Khrushchev's word that the U.S.S.R. would not test again.

"A number of inspectors" would have to be stationed in the Soviet Union, Foster said. "Early in the game we would want American inspectors, as I presume they would want Soviet inspectors."

The alternative to a treaty, he said, would be "a spiraling arms race which can only have one ultimate end, which is the destruction of the world."

Foster, who heads the new Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, spoke on a television interview — Meet the Press — NBC. He discounted published reports that the West would offer looser controls than those proposed last year.

If anything, he said, "it would be desirable in the national interest to perhaps increase rather than decrease the amount of inspection."

Foster made clear that the West would continue to oppose the system of self-inspection urged by the Soviet Union. However, he said the West was ready to discuss some adjustment in international or bilateral inspections.

As Foster spoke, reports were circulating in London that the West was believed ready to offer the Soviet Union a test-ban agreement with looser controls than those in the treaty proposed by the West last year.

Because many tests could be detected from outside the Soviet Union, the Sunday Times said, "the West may be prepared to consider fewer control posts in Soviet and Western territory, and to place greater emphasis on verification of results reported by instruments at home."

Last year at Geneva, the United States and Britain offered to reduce the number of permanent control posts on Soviet territory and to give the Soviets complete partnership in Western nuclear research for peaceful programs.

The U.S.S.R. stood firm on three inspections a year while the West wanted 20.

"That the West will follow a similar course at Geneva this month was indicated by Foster when he said, 'We will need to have some kind of inspectors or verifiers along the line of the 12 to 20 inspections or perhaps more that were discussed in April of 1961.'"

In an address Saturday to a Conservative Party Meeting, the Earl of Home, Britain's foreign secretary, said, "We and the United States are willing to agree to such inspection as is needed to give confidence that the measures of disarmament to which we subscribe are carried through and that those weapons and forces cannot be replaced."

"All depends on Russia's ability to cure herself of her obsession that inspection is the equivalent of espionage."

Disc Jockey Claims Record

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — A Selma disc jockey claims a world record of 202 hours, 48 minutes and 47 seconds for marathon radio broadcasting.

A physician said Dan Morgan of station WCWC apparently suffered no ill effects from his stint of more than eight days.

Morgan, 27, ended his marathon Saturday night. Colleagues said he made the broadcast with only brief interruptions for food and physical examinations.

The station said Morgan betted the 200 hour broadcast mark set by disc jockey Pete Tipp for station WMGM from a booth in New York's Times Square in January 1959.
